More Information

S'lichot Program, Service, and Dessert. Saturday, September 21, 2019, 7 pm at Westchester Reform Temple, 255 Mamaroneck Road, Scarsdale
Together with friends from other local congregations, we will welcome Middle Eastern vocalist and composer, Galeet Dardashti, who will perform her acclaimed work, Monajat. Monajat (a Persian word meaning dialogue with God) re-imagines the S'lichot ritual with a gifted ensemble of musicians, an electronic soundscape, and dynamic live video art. Using Persian melodies and Hebrew texts, the work pays homage to Dardashti's grandfather, a master Persian classical vocalist. Through electronics, she defies time and performs with her grandfather.

Hike & Service on 2nd Day Rosh Hashanah. Tuesday, October 1, 2019, 9 am - 2:30 pm, on Hogencamp Mountain, Harriman Park
This scenic 5 mile hike will be a time for reflection and regeneration - a fun and unrushed, meaningful outdoor experience for individuals, couples, and families. Hilly, moderately graded trails will require some light scrambling. There will be a spiritual and interactive mountaintop shofar service and a short closing Tashlich service at a pristine trailside lake. Exact finish time depends on the pace of the group. The hike is open to adults and children 8 and older. The deadline to RSVP is Sunday, September 29th!

Memorial Service. Sunday, October 6, 2019, 10:30 am
Join us as we honor our beloved departed during the Aseret Y'mei T'shuvah — the Ten Days of Repentance — with a graveside memorial service at Sharon Gardens Cemetery, in the Temple Israel section.

Yom Kippur Adult Study. Wednesday, October 9, 2019, 1:15 - 2:45 pm, with Jason Morris, Ph.D.
"The Fasts You Are Choosing: Finding Meaning in our Tradition and Beyond" will be a discussion of different reasons people fast and different meanings attached to fasts in Judaism and other traditions. Jason Morris, Ph. D., is an Associate Professor and Chair of the Natural Sciences Department at Fordham University.

Families With Children. Children of all ages are welcome to participate in all of our High Holiday services.

- Childcare is available for children 6 weeks through 4 years old (not for children in Kindergarten and older) during morning services (8:45 am - 1:30 pm). Reservations required. (We cannot accommodate walk-ins.) Call the Temple Office at (914) 235-1800 or visit www.tinr.org
- Family Services in the mornings are especially appropriate for families with children ages 5 and above.
- Young Children's Services in the afternoons are designed for families with children up to age 5.
- Teens are encouraged to attend the teen-only program on Rosh Hashanah afternoon and to participate in leading the community-wide service on Yom Kippur afternoon.

Guests. High Holiday services are open to all. Security procedures demand everyone have tickets, but they are available to anyone who wishes to attend. We ask that you use the enclosed card if you plan on bringing guests with you to services. We always welcome your support and the suggested donation is $120 per guest for each holiday, $200 for both Rosh Hashanah and Yom Kippur.

Contributing This Season. Traditionally, the High Holidays are a time to offer additional financial support to our synagogue. Your generosity during this time of spiritual seeking is essential for Temple Israel to maintain excellence in programming. We appreciate your generosity! Visit www.tinr.org anytime to donate to Temple Israel of New Rochelle during these Holidays. and throughout the year.

Away for the Holidays? Temple Israel members in good standing who will be visiting other cities during the High Holidays may request reciprocal forms from the Temple office. This enables you to worship in a Union for Reform Judaism congregation in another city. We also accept similar requests from members of other URJ congregations.

All services are open seating and unreserved. Services will begin promptly, as scheduled.

- We will be using Mishkan HaNefesh, the Reform Movement's machzor (High Holiday prayer book) at all services. Copies will be available to the entire congregation at the door, and for purchase. (see enclosed card)
- Name tags will be mailed to members and guests on or by Friday, September 13. We are eager for every member to be with us throughout the High Holiday season.
- For everyone's safety, your name tag and a photo ID will need to be presented.

From the President

As much as I welcome the familiar and comforting rituals of High Holiday services, it's the rabbis' sermons to which I most look forward. I enter the sanctuary wondering about the topic; whether it will be tied to recent news or be something more universal; whether I'll agree with the Rabbi or find myself sitting in the pews constructing counter arguments in my head. Without fail I'm pushed to consider a topic from perspectives I had not previously considered. In the days following I'll usually end up relating sermon excerpts to friends, wishing I could articulate the point as well as the Rabbi had from the bimah. It's an experience and feeling otherwise lost to me since my college days. Rather than subjecting my friends to my watered down version of a wonderful sermon, this year I'll invite them to join me. I'd urge you to do the same. High Holiday services are open to all who wish to join. For security purposes visitors need to call for tickets, but there is no charge. Please ask your friends, neighbors and relatives to come be a part of our community. They are all welcome.

As Temple President, I'll have a slightly expanded role during this year's services. As the clergy help us to welcome in the New Year and subsequently lead us through the Day of Atonement, I'll ask you to continue to support us in all we do. The ability to do the work we do year after year, including welcoming all to our beautiful sanctuary during the Days of Awe, is only possible with your help. Please support us as you can. I look forward to seeing all of you in our shared home on the hill.

L'Shanah Tovah
 Rich Alter, Temple President

Rabbi's Note

Dear chevrei (friends),

The great rabbi, Abraham Joshua Heschel, said that "To pray is to know how to stand and dwell upon a word." I believe this to be true, though it is not exclusive to prayer. Any meditative practice has the ability to help us focus on words – or any matter – and to ponder their meaning and what actions we should take once we have done our dwelling. While personally, I do have a regular practice of praying (I am a rabbi!), I find this to also be true with my running. People often ask if I get bored spending so much time running. The truth is, even on a three-hour run, I don't think that I have ever been bored. The rhythm of footfalls and breathing, the hum of traffic and whooshing of wind are the liturgy that give rise to my best thinking – about anything and everything. Sometimes, I'm pondering the deepest of concepts and others are spent making a checklist of the mundane tasks to be done in the day ahead. Regardless, the running gives me the time away from everything that would otherwise interrupt my thinking, allowing me to feel so fulfilled by the end of each run - like I did something besides my run.

Others, of course, do this through yoga, knitting or just taking the time to stare out the window. A recent study by the Academy of Management actually showed that any activity that allows for your mind to wonder for long periods of time, on one or more subjects, leads to drastically higher levels of creativity in every sense – artistic, problem solving, fantasy and more.

Any prayer service that we have here lends itself to this concept. How often, without our prayer services, do we ponder concepts like peace, gratitude, peoplehood and mortality, to give a very short list? Certainly, life makes us come face-to-face with these issues from time to time, but for most of us, we have no set-aside time to really dwell on these issues at length. Generally, any service gives ample opportunity to do so. In fact, over the last few months, on Shabbat, my colleagues and I have gone out of our way to encourage people to let their minds wander and wonder throughout the service. The words of the prayer book, the melodies we sing, the mood we try to set, are all merely tools – uniquely Jewish tools – to enable us to dwell deeply on matters each of us should be thinking about regularly. At services, I have been telling the congregation flat out, that it is more than ok, encouraged in fact, to not turn the page every time we say so, or to read the commentaries at the bottom of the page, or to not read at all. Maybe just staring off into space while our music lifts one's spirit is enough to make space in our lives for the deep dwelling prayer is supposed to engender. Frankly, Heschel didn't think of Shabbat as a day of rest, rather a "Sanctuary in Time;" a way for us to make time itself sacred so that when Shabbat was done, we had done our spiritual best to meet the day-to-day emotionally prepared.

The upcoming holiday season takes these concepts and super-charges them. While there are many of the same themes in our High Holiday services as in any prayer service throughout the year, there are some concepts that we only, really, dwell on in a deep way at this time of year such as repentance, the righteousness of our behavior, fulfillment, our relationships and our own future. Just like the themes that are super-charged on these holidays, so are those very Jewish tools of the words, the music and the rituals that stir the spirit to dwell deeply on those themes. The music of these days is unlike any other. The power of the words is unlike any other. So are the sounds of the shofar, the throng that will be praying together and sense of peoplehood they make us feel.

I want to give you the same permission to dwell deeply these holidays, as I have been encouraging everyone to do on Shabbat. Not to dwell on your to-do list back at your desk, or when you'll have time to schedule the kids for a haircut. No, I'm giving you permission to use all of the sights, sounds and words to carry you to a place in your own mind and soul that you rarely go to. Tune the rest out.

Jewish tradition commands us to reflect on these themes at this time of year. I hope that you will take up the challenge. Rabbi Heschel was a great believer that our thinking and praying should both lead to action. The High Holidays convey the same message – pray sincerely, think deeply, and then, perhaps we will be our better selves in the year to come by acting differently than we have in the past.

Wishing you a shanah tovah,
Scott Weiner, Senior Rabbi

Dear Chavaya Families,

Welcome back! I'm looking forward to seeing you throughout the month of September. At Temple Israel we always use the start of a new year to try new things - whether it is offering brand new programs or adjusting current programs to better fit our community.

Youth Groups:

Temple Israel's youth groups are an integral part of how we engage our students. Over the past five years we have noticed changes in our youth's needs. We have addressed a few of these changes by offering different types of events and planning more weekend programs to avoid weekday scheduling conflicts. Having identified a growing interest in attending events among our younger children, this year we are excited to offer events for our second grade students. Additionally, we have modified the age ranges for our junior youth groups. They are as follows: Club 23 (2nd and 3rd graders) Club 45 (4th and 5th graders) Club 67 (6th and 7th graders)

Event dates for these groups will begin in October. Information will be publicized over email to families as dates near. Please reach out to me with any questions during the year.

TIFTY, our eldest youth group, will now include 8th graders as part of its programs. Please be in touch with Rabbi Nichols with questions about TIFTY.

Teen Offerings:

This past spring, a new Teen Engagement Committee (8th-12th grade) was formed to think about how Temple Israel can best provide teenagers with opportunities to remain involved with Temple Israel and Jewish life. I am excited to share with you two initiatives that we will pilot this year.

1. Tikkun Teens: a community service club with monthly events open to 8th-12th graders.
2. Two Tracks to Confirmation: 10th graders can celebrate their Confirmation by participating in our classic Confirmation Class on Tuesday evenings or by participating in our new Confirmation Social Justice Track.

In addition to these new programs, we will continue to offer the programs that have been central to teen involvement at Temple Israel, including Tuesday Night Chavaya, TIFTY, and Madrichim. All 8th-12th graders are eligible to participate in these programs. If you are a teen or parent of a teen and have questions about the new offerings, please contact me or Rabbi Nichols. Need to register? Visit our website, www.tinr.org to complete the registration form.

Education Committees:

Our new Teen Engagement Committee is chaired by Diana Nero (nero\_diana@yahoo.com) and Mara Roberge (mararoberge@hotmail.com). If you are interested in helping to shape teen programming, please contact them.

This year's Chavaya K7 committee will be chaired by Jennifer Goldman and Julie Rosenbluth. The Chavaya K7 committee also includes dedicated parent representatives who serve as liaisons between the committee and Chavaya groups. Expect to hear from these individuals throughout the year as they help communicate information about events and holidays. Parent representatives also welcome your questions and feedback.

Chavaya Breakfast!

Sunday, September 15th, 10 am
Stop in and have breakfast with us sponsored by Brotherhood!

Dear Temple Community,

We had an excellent summer at Kehillah School, full of fun and exploration! As autumn approaches, it is time to reset our classrooms and focus on our learning goals for the upcoming year. Our goal is to work together as a kehillah, a community, to teach appropriate physical, cognitive, and emotional skills through the teaching of Jewish values, Jewish holidays, and Torah, as well as an emergent curriculum.

This year, I am developing resource binders for every class that include child-friendly summaries of every Torah portion, relevant Hebrew words (as well as a general Hebrew glossary), and two activities for each age group that connect to the Torah and work on science, math, art, language, dramatic, motor, and/or social skills. These binders will be a springboard for teachers to utilize while lesson planning. I am also creating a Jewish holiday guide, complete with background information, classroom ideas, as well as book and song suggestions that will go in the binders. Last but not least, each month there will be a Jewish value explored and lived across the whole school, starting with lechem l'r'ayveem, feeding the hungry, and our High Holiday food drive.

While all of this is going on, the teachers will observe and note topics and activities which spark excitement and curiosity in the children. Those budding interests are turned into an engaging emergent curriculum that is uniquely significant to the learners and reflects the experiences of the children in that class. Students can work on all kinds of skills while exploring something they are genuinely curious about. This reflective and reflexive teaching method is designed to engage students, and then guide them through expanding their own knowledge.

We look forward to another year of growing and learning!

L'shanah Tovah,
Rachel Zager, Education Coordinator

It was a Great Summer at Camp Pinebrook!

There were 95 campers this summer that made Camp Pinebrook their home away from home, full of fun, learning, song, crafts...and more fun!

Take a look at the pictures below, and see the happy faces and happy days!

You can still tour Camp Pinebrook. There will be on-going fall sessions in which you'll want your children to participate!

Bar Mitzvah

My name is Mikey Rockoff and I will celebrate becoming a Bar Mitzvah on Saturday, September 14, 2019. I will be chanting from Ki Teitzei in the book of Deuteronomy. I belong to Temple Israel with my parents, Steve & Jana Rockoff. I am in the 8th grade at Albert Leonard Middle School. Outside of school, I like to play ice hockey, watch videos, follow the Steelers and go to Islanders games. For my Mitzvah Project, I volunteered at the HOPE Community Services Soup Kitchen where I served food and drinks to their clients. This project is important to me because it is a way that I enjoy helping people. I like knowing that people have food to eat, and it gave me the chance to meet the people I was helping. I hope to see you at services when I am called to the Torah.

Calling all High School Students: We hope that you will set a goal of trying TIFTY out this year. We are a very active youth group with events that range from purely social to active community service, from a couple hours long to overnight, from a few teens at Temple Israel to dozens of teens from all over the New York area. For more information about getting involved, please be in touch with our advisor, Rabbi Beth Nichols, or our president, Maya Schloss. Our email addresses are inside the front cover.

Calling all Eighth Graders: We are excited that this year we will be transitioning TIFTY to include 8th grade! During the fall we will have some events open to eighth graders and eighth graders will be welcome at all local and regional events during second semester. We would like to host at least one event exclusively for eighth graders this fall. Please reach out to Rabbi Nichols if you have ideas or want to help organize this event.

September's TIFTY Monthly Meeting on September 11, 6 pm, is open to all teens and is a great way to get involved. We will catch up with one another, eat dinner and plan for the fall. Because dinner is included, please RSVP ahead of time so that we can make sure to have enough food. Contact Maya Schloss with questions or RSVPs.

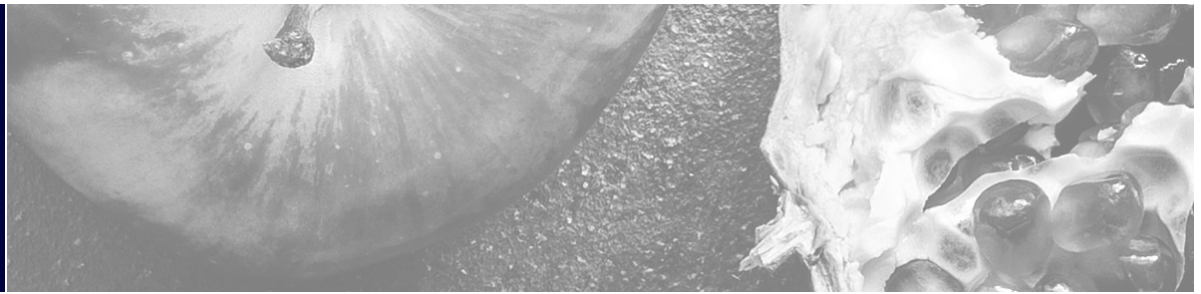

Start the year with Jewish teens from all over the area at the NAR TYG Leadership Assembly on Saturday, September 14 in Manhattan. Learn great leadership skills to bring back to TIFTY. Registration is open at newyork.nfty.org.

Come make sandwiches for the HOPE Soup Kitchen at our Monthly Sandwich Brigade on Tuesday, September 17, 8-9 pm Right after Chavaya on Tuesday evening we will meet in the kitchen. We have a great time making sandwiches and catching up with each other. Please contact Social Action VP Hayden Roberge for more information. Please bring loaves of bread, jelly or non-peanut butters (allergy friendly).

Have a High Holiday experience geared for you at the Rosh Hashanah Teen Program on Monday, September 30 and help lead the Yom Kippur Afternoon Service on Wednesday, October 9! If you are interested in being involved in planning these High Holiday events, please contact Maya Schloss and attend the preparation meeting on Tuesday, September 24 at 8 pm.

Temple Israel's Oral History Project - Tell Your Story!

One of the oldest human (and Jewish) traditions is story-telling. Now at Temple Israel, we are starting a project to collect our stories. Temple Israel is a congregation of hundreds of families, each with its own stories. Some of those stories took place in our building, or in the Webster building, or perhaps in one of the even earlier buildings downtown. We are looking for people who want to share their stories of Temple Israel, and for volunteers to help us collect them. We will be recording interviews with willing subjects at the Temple or another convenient location. The recordings will be archived at the Temple, where they can be viewed. We plan to develop the means for the interviews to be viewed remotely, so that stories can be shared with people who are not nearby.

If you are interested in interviewing or being interviewed, please refer to the list on the right. You will note that not all interviewees and interviewers have been paired, so we need your help!

Please contact Warren Agatston (lawwsa@aol.com)/(914) 933-0050, Stan Konwiser (stankonwiser@gmail.com)/(201) 703-1122 to volunteer.

A special thank you to Brotherhood and Sisterhood, Todd Pekats, Val Etra, Mitch Benson, and Warren and Janice Agatston for underwriting the cost of the recording equipment for this project!

Interviews are continuing into the Fall! Interviewers and interviewees should plan to meet in advance of the interview and review the suggested questions, agree on a few dates and then contact Mia Egelberg to schedule, so that a tech person will be available to assist. Mia can be reached at miaegelberg@gmail.com or (914) 629-2794.
